3.0 Highlights of Canada Council grants to Prince Edward Island artists and arts organizations

Arts organizations

The Canada Council supports the work of arts organizations. In 2012-13, some of the Prince Edward Island arts organizations that received funding were:

Organization	Community	Total funding
Confederation Centre Art Gallery	CHARLOTTETOWN	$148,700
Island Media Arts Co-operative	CHARLOTTETOWN	$59,340
The Montgomery Theatre	NORTH RUSTICO	$4,500
Prince Edward Island Symphony Society	CHARLOTTETOWN	$17,000
University of Prince Edward Island, Department of English	CHARLOTTETOWN	$5,800

Examples of Canada Council funding in Prince Edward Island<sup>5</sup>

The Canada Council supports the endeavours of professional artists and arts organizations through its programs. The following selection illustrates some of the activities supported by the Canada Council in Prince Edward Island:

August/September 2012 - Contemporary textile artist Nancy Cole of Summerside, PE was one of 53 artists selected for the international exhibition Contextile 2012 – Contemporary Textile Art Triennial in Guimaraes, Portugal. Her work Postcard from Lisbon is a highly-layered silk textile based on the idea of friendship which she describes as “a very organic theme. Not only does friendship have a structure but also a very fluid process.” Attending the opening of the exhibition gave Cole the opportunity to meet and exchange with other textile artists. She writes, “I have taken some of the concepts I saw and included them in works... and will be expanding my work to include media and sound.” To offset travel costs, Cole was awarded her first Canada Council grant of $2,000 through the Travel Grants to Professionals in the Visual Arts program.

November 2012 - Charlottetown Down-East fiddle and old time band Gordie MacKeeman and his Rhythm Boys performed for music industry professionals in Nottingham, England at the Association of Festival Organizers' conference as part of the Atlantic Canadian Music Industry Association (ACMIA) showcase. The group plays a mix of Celtic and Americana music featuring MacKeeman's renowned fiddle playing and fine dancing. Performing in the U.K at the Nottingham conference and at a private ACMIA showcase in London, gave the band the opportunity to reach audiences in the U.K, make new contacts and book shows. To offset travel costs, the group was awarded their first Canada Council grant of $6,000 through the Audience and Market Development Travel Grants program.

April 2012 - Charlottetown composer, collaborative pianist, theorist and educator Richard Covey shared his expertise with students of London, England's Trinity Laban Conservatoire of Music and Dance – and learned from their interpretation of his works. Covey facilitated a master class for students and gave a pre-concert lecture for students and the general public on Canadian music and his own compositional approach. As part of Trinity's New Music Forum, Covey's major chamber works Songs on the Waves and Trio for Flute Clarinet and Piano were played by students while the world premiere of his piano work Echoes I: Of Time and Tone was played by Dr. Aleksander Szram of the Piano and Academic Studies department. "The interpretation of my compositions by such keen students was so valuable to hear," wrote Covey. "This was a very productive trip for me gaining insight into the tastes, views and opinions of artists overseas." To offset travel costs, Covey received his first Canada Council grant of $1,000 through the Travel Grants to Professional Musicians program.

2012 - Charlottetown's Confederation Centre Art Gallery purchased seven new works for its contemporary Canadian art collection. It acquired a painting by emerging artist John Dohe of PE, Institutionalized (Two Worlds), that combines elements from Old Master Works. The acquisition also included photographs by PE artist Anna Karpinski, Something in the Water, that explore human subjects in public places, as well as a photograph by Will Gill, Cape Spear Suite, that documents the Newfoundland-based artist's action involving the catapulting of lit buoys into the ocean. These recent acquisitions were included in the Gallery's exhibition Rural Readymade, which also featured Saskatoon-based artist Clint Neufield's Sea Breeze Dynaflo, made up of exquisite porcelain engine pieces which had just returned to PEI from the Massachusetts Museum of Contemporary Art where it was on loan for the Oh, Canada exhibition. To support the acquisition of the new works, the Gallery received an $8,700 Canada Council grant through the Visual Arts: Acquisition Grants to Art Museums and Public Galleries program.

February 2013 - In her 2013 album Song Road, singer/songwriter Teresa Doyle, from Belfast, PE, draws inspiration from her "travels and conversations with campesinos [farmers] in Mexico, working and singing with farm women in the fields of Kenya, smoking salmon on the Yukon River and lazing on the beach in Cuba." Doyle produced the album with fiddler and multi-instrumentalist Jaron Freeman-Fox, who shares her interest in Celtic, Gaelic, East Indian and Latin music. "He was able to capture my curiosity about how other cultures use their voices while keeping firm footing in the songs and stories of my native Prince Edward Island," said Doyle. She also won an award at the East Coast Music Awards in Halifax. The Teresa Doyle & Jaron Freeman-Fox project received a $14,400 Canada Council grant through the Production Grants in Music program to record the album.
